President Truman Backs Byrnes In U. N. O. Situation

Watching Closely Hour-To-Hour Developments At Sessions In New York

STRATEGIC PLAN IS AGREED UPON

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—President Truman today was watching closely hour-to-hour developments at the United Nations security council sessions in New York.

The chief executive made clear his profound interest in the matter at a news conference at which he declared that Secretary of State Byrnes has his full backing in each move at the council meeting. Otherwise, Mr. Truman said, Byrnes would not take the position he has.

Byrnes is in regular telephonic communication with the White House. There he receives approval of any move he plans to make although it is known that both Mr. Truman and his chief advisor on foreign policy were agreed in general terms on the strategic plan in dealing with the Iranian question.

Byrnes in Charge
For minute-to-minute tactical operations Byrnes is in charge. Before Soviet Ambassador Andrei J. Gromyko stalked from the council chamber, refusing to participate in discussion of his country's position in Iran, however, Byrnes was prepared for the development and had Mr. Truman's approval not to give ground before Soviet wrath.

Even before he left Washington to go to the council meeting, Byrnes had been in contact with Mr. Truman at least once and often twice daily. He was known to be ready to make an issue of Iran, in the belief that Russia could not afford to abandon the UNO than the UNO could get along without Russia.

And, on the latter score, it was also known that Byrnes has felt

PA NEW OBSERVES

Recent electrical effects of the northern lights appeared to have returned again early this morning, according to effects seen on telegraph wires in newspapers.

Following street repairs at the top of Croton avenue hill, the avenue has been left with a sharp depression that is a hazard to passing traffic. Motorists come upon the depression suddenly and receive a jolt as they pass through.

Yesterday proved the season's warmest day, when the temperature rose to 78 degrees. This was several degrees lower than the unprecedented temperatures experienced a year ago at this time, when the mercury stood in the 80's on three successive days.

This morning out on East Washington street, Dr. Seal was looking over his flower garden at 7 o'clock; soon out comes the hoe for a little tending. Delphiniums, Digitalis, Pinks, Daffodils and other flower plants well mulched are making progressive growth already.

Something of a mystery developed in the Ted Leonard farm on the Elwood City road yesterday when three cows were brought in for milking and it was found that all three were dry. Some sleuthing was begun to determine what was the cause. It was found, after the cows had returned to pasture, that a number of small pigs in the pasture were preempting the duty of milking the cows, and needless to say the pigs were immediately removed to other sectors of the farm.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:
Maximum temperature, 78.
Minimum temperature, 34.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 81.
Minimum temperature, 48.

Congressmen Ponder 'Atomic Development Authority' Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—Some members of congress today approved the state department's plan for an international "atomic development authority" but were apprehensive that radioactive materials distributed as "denatured" might be returned in the form of enemy atomic bombs.
The proposal that the authority be the sole producer of all fissionable materials and distribute them to world nations touched off a new line of inquiry by the senate atomic committee.

RUSSIANS GIVEN BELATED REPORT

LONDON, March 29.—(INS)—The Russian people knew today that Andrei Gromyko walked out of Wednesday's session of the UNO security council meeting.
After ignoring the news for more than 24 hours, the Moscow radio late last night broadcast a strictly factual account of the incident.

Labor Secretary May Step Into Coal Situation

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach was expected to step into the coal wage dispute today amidst the first encouraging note in the 17-day-old negotiations for a new mine contract.
Although virtually abandoning hope of preventing a work stoppage by 400,000 bituminous miners next week, federal labor officials are seeking to avert a prolonged shutdown that would cripple the nation's production.

Further Conferences
Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson talked with both the operators and John L. Lewis and announced that there would be further conferences with the parties after he had reported to Schwellenbach.

Spokesmen for the mine owners, meanwhile, saw an encouraging note in the fact that the negotiations Thursday progressed for the

CHESNUT WILL MAKE REPORT TO GOVERNOR

State Secretary Of Labor To Report On Westinghouse Strike Situation Inquiry

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—(INS)—State Secretary of Labor William H. Chesnut will report direct to Gov. Edward Martin today his findings in the 73-day-old strike at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.
Chesnut, sent to Pittsburgh by the state's chief executive, conferred with Westinghouse, union, city and county officials but did not disclose his findings. He said a full report of his investigation will be made public by the governor.

New Developments
Meanwhile, developments broke fast in the walkout that company officials claimed was holding up $800 million worth of potential business. They are:
1. A congressional investigation approved in the making as House and Senate groups took steps to probe into the causes and failures to bring the strike to an end.
2. Company officials "considered" seeking another injunction to halt mass picketing at their Sharon, Pa. plant where 5,500 production workers have been on strike since January 15.
3. Pittsburgh's Mayor David L. Lawrence conferred with Westinghouse President G. W. A. Price in an effort to reach a settlement in the strike that has caused undue hardships to nearly 25,000 workers.

State Police To Stay At Strike Scene Says Martin

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin announced today that state police would not be withdrawn from the strikebound Westinghouse plant in East Pittsburgh.

Next 6 Months Most Critical For Inflation

O. P. A. Administrator Porter Warns Congress Of 'Serious Danger' Ahead

PRICE CONTROLS EXTENSION URGED

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—OPA Administrator Paul Porter warned congress today that there is a "serious danger" of inflationary prices increases of from 30 to 50 percent during the next 12 months.
"The next 6 months will be the most critical of all," he told the house banking and currency committee in testimony urging continuation of price control laws beyond their June 30 expiration date.

He said:
"If we can get safely through the next 12 months, I believe it probable that the danger of accumulative spiral of inflation will be passed."

Critical Situation
Painting a picture of the critical situation now facing the United States, Porter told the committee:
"The economic stability of much of the rest of the world, now very precarious, is also at stake. A severe inflation and collapse here would be reflected abroad. This might well wreck for years all constructive attempts at the sort of international economic relations which we must have as a firm support for international peace." Urging extension of the price control laws for another year Porter said:

Ceiling Prices For Some Meats Are Increased

Higher Retail Prices To Become Effective On Next Monday It Is Announced

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration today announced higher retail ceiling prices for some beef and most pork. The new prices become effective next Monday.

On the average, the price of pork generally will be increased three-fourths of a cent a pound. In general, prices of beef products will be boosted an average of one-third of a cent a pound.
OPA said that higher retail prices for veal and mutton will be announced later.

The new ceilings apply to three-fourths of all pork products and about one-third of all beef cuts. The retail prices of all beef and pork cuts will remain unchanged.
Included among the beef and pork cuts to sell at higher retail prices are ham, pork loin, bacon, porterhouse, T-bone, club steak, sirloin round, flank beef and hamburger.
Increases in the prices of these items are limited to a cent a pound. Unpackaged dried beef will be increased four cents a pound and beef liver and cooked corn beef biscuits will be boosted two cents a pound. The prices of other beef variety meats remain unchanged.
The higher retail ceiling prices reflect increases in wholesale prices granted to meat packers to offset the recent 18½-cent an hour wage boost in the industry.

OPA said that the new ceilings will be posted after April 1 in the nation's retail meat markets.

Iranian Envoy Ready To Speak At UNO Meeting

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS)—Hussein Ala, the Iranian ambassador, is prepared to appear again before the Security Council if called upon.
A spokesman stated:
"His instructions are perfectly clear."
He declined to say whether or not "any change in instructions" had been received from the Tehran government in pursuit of its complaints against Soviet Russia.
The spokesman added that he was fully aware of the suggestion in Tehran newspapers that Iran withdraw her case from the Security Council, and settle the issue in direct negotiations reportedly under way between Moscow and Tehran.

Vision Is Presented Of Navy Of Future

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—(INS)—The navy officially reported today that it envisioned a U. S. fleet in the near future where warships would be powered by atomic energy and guided missiles and piloted aircraft would sweep across the skies at supersonic speeds of more than 1,000 miles an hour.
These views were presented to the 112th convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Rear Admiral H. G. Bowen, chief of the navy's new research and invention bureau.
Admiral Bowen also told the 2500

Father And Son Hanged In Iowa

Pay Penalty For Murder With Lives, In Iowa Prison This Morning

FORT MADISON, Ia., March 29.—(INS)—Seventy-two year old Philip Heiney and his son William, 45, were hanged today at the Iowa penitentiary—the first father and son execution in America's crime history.
The pair paid with their own lives for the murder of Robert Raebel, a Lake Okobah resort operator, in December, 1944.

The trap was sprung simultaneously on the men at 6:02 a. m. and they were pronounced dead a few minutes later.
Neither man showed any emotion as he walked to the gallows and waited for the hangman to adjust the noose.

Resigned To Fate
Both father and son apparently were resigned to their fate.
Warren P. A. Lamson said neither displayed any fear.
They ate a final meal of steaks, potatoes, vegetables, cake, pie and

La Guardia Heads World's Effort To Halt Starvation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 29.—(INS)—Fiorello H. La Guardia today became the "front man for the world's starving millions."
He was given a tremendous ovation during the formalities attending his election as new secretary general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration this morning.
C. T. Wood, U. S. delegate who nominated him at the UNRRA council meeting said La Guardia was one of the first Americans to fight against hunger.
He recalled that La Guardia was the first congressman to fight for recognition of the USSR.

Nationalist Troops In China Being Delayed By Attacks

SHANGHAI, March 29.—(INS)—China Central News Agency reported today that Nationalist troops moving north from Tientsin along the Mukden-Changchun railway are being held up by furious attacks on the part of Communist forces.

The government controlled agency in a dispatch from Chungking also said that the coal center of Fushin, 30 miles east of Mukden and Liao-yang, 35 miles to the southwest are under Communist attack.
Both cities were recently occupied by Nationalist troops in the wake of the evacuating Soviet army.

Russia's Stand Provides Test

Believe Soviet Intends To Remain In UNO But Wants Own Iran Settlement

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS)—Russia intends to remain a full-fledged member of UNO but her diplomatic somersaults and recurrent table-pounding are going to make New York a hot town this year.
The walkout by Andrei Gromyko on the Iran issue was a preliminary test, in the opinion of delegates and observers alike, designed by Moscow to measure the patience and strain to which the current meetings as well as the assembly confabs in September can be subjected without ripping UNO to pieces.

But there is no chance of a retreat and a return to her seat at the Security Council during any discussion over Iran. A demonstration to that effect came yesterday when Gromyko acting on instructions to attend all sessions not incompatible with the Russian standpoint, balked from the closed session.

Soviet Refuses To Allow U. S. Plane Landing In Korea

SEOUL, Korea, March 29.—(INS)—Russian authorities today refused to permit an American plane to land at Pyongyang, capital of the northern zone of occupied Korea, and the scheduled flight was cancelled.
The plane was to have carried a message from Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of U. S. forces in Korea, to Lt. Gen. I. M. Chistiakov, Soviet commander of the 25th Red Army occupying northern Korea.
Action of the Russians in denying permission to land was in contrast to the recent unannounced arrival in Seoul of two Russian planes carrying delegates to the joint American-Soviet commission currently meeting in Seoul.

Reuther Fails To Receive Support

Thomas Forces Win All Offices But Presidency In Auto Workers Elections

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 29.—(INS)—The forces of former President R. J. Thomas today consolidated their grip on the top leadership of the CIO United Auto Workers Union by gaining the second vice-presidency.
In another blow at newly-elected President Walter P. Reuther, Thomas' man, Richard T. Leonard of Detroit, named out by less than 42 votes his opponent and ardent Reuther supporter, John W. Livingston, regional director from Kansas City. The official count, announced this morning in closest election race in UAW history was:
Leonard—4309 074
Livingston—4287 243

Reuther Handicapped
Leonard's victory gave all the union's top elective positions, with the exception of the presidency itself, to the Thomas forces.
Thomas himself captured the first vice-presidency in a surprise move yesterday, while George F. Addes, another Thomas Reuther, was re-elected to his tenth term as secretary-treasurer of the world's largest union without opposition.
Although the election was held in yesterday's afternoon session, so close was the margin of victory that tellers were unable to arrive at the actual figure until 3:30 a. m. today. Leonard, who has run for the vice-presidency many times previously.

Gromkyo Doesn't Know Whether He Will Attend Today

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS)—Andrei Gromyko, Russian delegate to the UNO security council, was as mysterious as ever today about his plans to attend this afternoon's council session.

Gromyko, who has said he would not attend any sessions at which Russia's dispute with Iran is discussed, told newsmen as he entered the Russian consulate:
"I don't know whether I'll attend today's session."

The session today has been called to continue open discussion of the Iranian problem.

Little Iran To Continue To Present Case

U. N. O. Security Council Members Seek Compromise For Russia's Return

SESSIONS RESUME THIS AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS)—It was a case of "watch-fu-laiting" on the part of both sides today as the United Nations Security Council undertook another open session this afternoon.

Bent, but not broken, over the Russian-Iranian dispute, Council members, led by the United States and Great Britain, planned to push through what they hope will be a compromise that will bring Soviet Russia back into the fold.

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS)—Little Iran will continue on the witness stand today before the United Nations security council in presenting her charges of intimidation and coercion against Soviet Russia.

At the same time, however, council members led by the United States and Great Britain were working up a compromise they hoped would bring the Soviet Union back into full participation in the deliberations of the most powerful policing organization of the United Nations.

Compromise Proposal
The compromise in effect would involve a postponement of consideration of the Russian-Iran dispute—after this afternoon's session—until the early part of next week, possibly next Tuesday.

Whether Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko would accept the compromise was problematical. On instructions from Moscow, he dramatically walked out of the security council two days ago when the council voted him down, 9 to 2, on a motion to defer the Iranian charges until April 10.

The council is meeting today in open session at 3 p. m. EST after Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala

Justice Robert Jackson Returning To United States, Colonel Taylor New Prosecutor
NUERNBERG, March 29.—(INS)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor of the Nuernberg war crimes trials, announced today that Col. Telford Taylor of Washington, D. C. was appointed to succeed him as chief prosecutor.
Col. Taylor served as deputy chief prosecutor under Jackson.

Jackson said he had no set plans for returning to the United States, but hoped he could return this spring.
He added that the United States was not committed to take part in any future international tribunals, and that the decision whether or not to enter any such tribunals would come only after the Nuernberg trials.

Jackson declined to predict a date for the end of the Nuernberg trials. He said: "Your guess is as good as mine."

Discuss Effects Of Russia's Walkout From UNO Meetings

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(INS)—Russia's "walkout" from the UNO meeting was looked upon today by a former representative of the League of Nations as a "consolidating force" which will make the body stronger.

Dr. William E. Rappard, of the University of Geneva, formerly a representative of the League and a member of the permanent mandate commission, made the comment before the American Political Science Association, meeting in Philadelphia.

He maintained the Soviet action would help strengthen the UNO by "giving the other members a feeling of solidarity," and compared it to Italy's walkout from the old League.

The American mainland will save the organization even should Russia withdraw completely, he declared.

An opposite view was taken by Clarence Streit, president of the Federal Union, Inc., who asserted that the Russian move would lead to "eventual federal union of the democracies along political lines, and not as sovereign states."

Virginia Governor Forestalls Strike

RICHMOND, Va., March 29.—(INS)—Gov. William M. Tucker today notified all employees of the Virginia Electric and Power Co. that they have been drafted into the state militia and will be court-martialed if they strike.

The governor acted to forestall a threatened walkout of power workers set for Monday morning.

He mobilized the State Guard and dispatched guardsmen to all power plants today to notify workers of their "draft" status.

Spokesmen at the capitol explained the governor's emergency order was possible under Virginia law and was a "precautionary" measure.

Urges Elimination For OPA Controls

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—(INS)—Elimination of OPA controls to speed up production was advocated today by E. T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, in the 17th annual report to stockholders.

Weir said the steel strike will have an adverse effect on the earnings during this year and that the $5-a-ton steel raise granted by the government was not sufficient.

The report showed the corporation earned $11,117,764 during the past year and paid a $5.04 dividend on each share of common stock.

Hard Coal Strike May Come In June

HAZELTON, Pa., March 29.—(INS)—A strike of thousands of anthracite miners before June 1 appeared unlikely today, despite the virtual certainty of a soft coal shutdown Sunday midnight.

The United Mine Workers of America announced that wage scale demands of the anthracite miners will be formulated at a tri-district convention in Hazleton on April 24 and 25.

An estimated 300 rank-and-file delegates representing local unions of Districts One, Seven and Nine will draw up the 1946 collective bargaining proposals at that time, according to the UMWA.

It will be the first tri-district scale convention since 1943.

The trio were arrested by Policemen Fleeger, Lockard and Lieutenant Jones. The pocketbook, nylons and sugar were recovered, police report.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...best food we ever used"

Paul Evans, owner of Lane's End Cocker Spaniels, Missenopolis, Ill., writes: "I have been using Gro-Pup for some time. It's the best food we have ever used. My dog loves it, maintains better condition and eats less. In short, Gro-Pup has been wholly satisfactory."

Most breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's gro-pup because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's gro-pup is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor. Get this scientifically formulated dog food in 3 formulas: Ribbons, Meat, or Pellets—at your grocer's or pet shop. Made by KELLLOGG'S of Battle Creek.

vision of the UNO security council would scatter its atomic plants throughout the world.

Secretary of State Byrnes, in releasing the 33,000-word report stressed that the plan was not intended as a perfected proposal but as "a place to begin, a foundation on which to build."

While the program appeared to be receiving increasing support as "a step in the right direction," some congressmen said they wanted to look further into the "denatured" angle.

Urges Extreme Caution
Sen. Bridges (R) N. H. a foreign relations committee member, urged extreme caution. He pointed to the report's statement that while denatured materials are unsuitable for atomic weapons, which do not appear in principle impossible night alter the situation.

Bridges added: "Even by the admission of proponents of the plan the borderline is so close we do not dare rely upon it."

Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., state atomic commission chairman, called the preliminary study "the first major step toward implementing the UNO agreement to seek international atomic control."

Critical Of Proposal
But Sen. Johnson (D) Col., a committee member, was critical of the proposal to release some secret data to other countries as a basis for discussion. Johnson said:

"It is sheer nonsense to believe there is protection for the U. S. in telling the good nations and the bad how to make an atomic bomb."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Ia., another committee member, halted the plan as "suggesting a simplified method" of world control, "if denaturing is reliable." He said he wants to question Oppenheimer at length about denaturing.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., meanwhile said the international political attitude as a serious obstacle to early world nuclear control. He said:

"We must prove that UNO can work and they're not doing a very good job today."

LITTLE IRAN TO CONTINUE TO PRESENT CASE

answers three questions put to him on Wednesday and responds to any other questions in the minds of the ten remaining nation members, a motion is expected which would ask for full details—in writing—from both Russia and Iran before the dispute is aired further.

Fix Time For Replies
A definite time limit on replies will be fixed if possible. Next Tuesday seems to be the most favored date, but this will be entirely up to a vote of the council this afternoon.

As the compromise was plotted in advance, the request for information would go to Soviet Ambassador Gromyko and Iranian Ambassador Ala here in New York, rather than direct to their respective home governments.

Gromyko made a long statement of Russia's side of the case before he walked out on Wednesday. There was considerable conjecture as to whether he would consent to repeat this in writing, but the effort apparently is going to be made.

Russians Absent Again
The Russians will, of course, be absent again when the security council reconvenes this afternoon. They stayed away from yesterday's closed session when they learned at the last minute that debate on the Iranian issue was to be continued.

had the council confined itself yesterday to "procedural" matters, Gromyko or a Russian alternate would have been on hand.

Just after Gromyko closed his brief case and walked out two days ago, Polish Ambassador Oscar Lange put three questions to the Iranian ambassador, Lange, who is carrying the Russian ball in Gromyko's absence, wanted to know:

1. Whether Ala had received any instructions from his government in Tehran to oppose a delay in security council consideration of the Russian-Iranian dispute.

On Wednesday Ala said definitely "no" and urged prosecution of the case but dispatches from Tehran yesterday said the Iranian newspapers were featuring stories suggesting withdrawal of the complaint and a bilateral negotiation of all differences.

2. Whether Ala had received any official information about Russian troop withdrawal from Iran. The Iranian replied in the negative on Wednesday, but press dispatches quote Tehran authorities as saying the withdrawal is progressing "satisfactorily."

3. Whether Prime Minister Ghamshani was quoted correctly by Gromyko in saying Iran does not want "outside" pressure on its negotiations with Russia, and that Red troops are getting out of Iran in good order. (Again, press dispatches indicate that the Iranian prime minister said this in so many words.)

that UNO without Russia could be no more powerful than the League of Nations was without the United States.

No Optimistic View
Officials in Washington by no means took an optimistic view of the situation in New York, even at the time that Moscow announced that an agreement with Tehran had been reached. They realized that any such agreement, if it was to gain the respect of the world, would have to be proven to be an agreement reached without force or the threat of force by the bigger power.

In the present discussions, Washington observers believed, the council cannot write off Iran's sovereignty and integrity merely to gain a momentary semblance of agreement among the major powers. To do so, they argue, would be to write off the respect of almost 50 lesser powers who have subscribed to UNO in the hope of gaining security.

Some officials believed that a "big three" meeting of the chiefs of state might be desirable to solve the world problem. As far as could be determined, Mr. Truman is not willing to institute such a meeting since the United States has regularly been the originating power for the past several meetings.

RUSSIA'S STAND PROVIDES TEST

sion when informed that contrary to previous expectations the Iranian issue was on the agenda.

His orders from Moscow remain firm on that point. The Russian again emphasized after the communique yesterday that they are not splitting away from UNO. But they left the unmistakable impression that the Iran issue will be settled their way—in Moscow—and that in certain respects Gromyko has no intention of knocking down to UNO, either now or later.

Flyaway—Another Hazard Ahead!

Many a thinking man and woman is giving nervous consideration to the hazards ahead, when, presumably the air will be filled with Sunday drivers in airplanes. Undoubtedly these three-dimensional warriors received small comfort from the recent news report of a runaway—or flyaway—plane.

It seems that a preoccupied pilot started the motor of his craft, meantime neglecting to tune down the throttle, and the thing just took off before he could catch it. For almost three hours it zoomed over the plains of Nebraska, eventually making a reasonably decent landing, everything considered.

Once it was the runaway horse that disturbed the even tenor of existence. Back in the year B.C. (Before Cadillacs) everyone had horses, and the horse that never ran away had led an unreasonably sheltered life. One never knew when some cantankerous nag with an undiagnosed psychosis would rear in the air and bolt down the street to the consternation of pedestrian. In fact, in the Alger books, future millionaires always got their start by flagging down a runaway—which shows how important to civilization such phenomena had become.

Then in the age of planetary transmissions came the early version of the automobile that had to be cranked. These uninhibited cars often started right out, regardless of whether the axle driver had leaped to his place at the wheel. Many an early auto might have been running yet like the Flying Dutchman, had it not been for the prevalence of trees and stone walls. In those days a good driver was known by his footwork. One shudders to think of the consequences of such mechanical perversity in that cosmic era when the air will be thick with sky-riding jalloppies. Let's get one thing straight now and make it a habit—never crank a plane before putting checks under the wheels. Please.

Deferred Test

Plans have been announced to conduct the atomic bomb tests in the Pacific early in the summer. But there seems to be doubt in the minds of some Washington reporters whether they will be carried out. Perhaps a growing conviction in the country that the whole project is an extravagant, unrewarding gesture has something to do with it.

There is little in such a test, involving the expenditure of tens of millions of dollars, that could not be discovered in the laboratory or in a test on a much smaller scale. The Bikini extravaganza would add little to that except a spectacular, costly exhibition.

Then, too, there is the property involved. All peoples are hard pressed to recover from an era of destruction and get back to rebuilding and providing for human wants. If the Pacific project is abandoned, there will be the gain for this country of saving property earmarked for destruction.

Lack Of Voting Interest

Obviously one of the weaknesses of the republican form of government is the lack of interest of so many citizens in the election of their public officers.

When primary elections are held, in many instances less than 30 per cent of the qualified voters take the trouble to vote for their party candidates.

The result of this is that a candidate who can rally a few hundred votes may win over the one who may be much better qualified for the office that is sought.

About 65 per cent of the 132,000,000 population of the United States composes the persons who are 21 years of age and older, most of them eligible to vote.

At the last presidential election only 56 per cent of the potential voting strength of the nation was represented in the votes cast for the candidates.

There is great need for an increase in voting interest by men and women, and this is especially true at the election of state and local officials and for members of Congress.

Chess Champ

The death of Dr. Alexander Alekhine, world chess champion, brings to an end a glittering career in that restricted but nevertheless far-flung world where command of the movements of pawns and pieces on a checkerboard can bring the practitioner international renown.

Dr. Alekhine was unquestionably one of the great chess masters of the twentieth century. Some experts say he was the greatest of them all, basing their estimate on the many tournaments he won, on his victories over all rivals in world championship matches, and also on his contributions to the theory of the ancient game. And even those who would give first place to others are frank to admit that he had few superiors.

He was not always consistent. After he had won the world championship from Capablanca he set it to Dr. Max Euwe of The Netherlands. But in the return match he recovered it in a series that clearly demonstrated his right to the title. Yet in 1938 in the AVRO tournament in Holland he finished fourth.

In any event, among the devotees of the game and among those who play it occasionally for recreation, his name stands on the highest level both as a match player and a student who contributed much to its fascinating strategy.

One Man's Opinion

Democratic leaders are holding a series of peace meetings in Washington. No casualties so far.

When Republicans hold a peace meeting they hire a hall. . . . Democrats hire a chief.

Anyhow it has been established that Vodka won't work in the Bronx. The cable to Moscow read "We lose." The answer was "Do you know anybody that had a longer winning streak?"

The Soviet team won at Yalta and Tehran but the pitching has changed.

The only champions recognized in the Bronx are the Yankees and the Giants and they win their games on the open field.

It looks dark . . . but stand by for the dawn. It will break reluctantly over Moscow and grow slowly toward New York.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Hoover Food Mission Saved Lenin Government

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Herbert Hoover, at 71, is making a strenuous tour of Europe in order to learn at first hand the European food needs. This has been the signal for the revival of charges that Hoover used food for political purposes after the last war.

In part at least, this charge comes from communist sources. The political motivation is obvious. All the evidence indicates, however, that the charge is basically unfair.

Because Hoover has now become an important figure in America's relief picture, the facts deserve an airing.

Saved Millions Of Russians

In 1921 and 1922, Hoover's American relief administration saved millions of Soviet citizens from starvation. At the peak of operations, the Hoover agency was feeding 4,171,441 children and 6,357,938 adults in 26 provinces, the Ukraine, and the cities of Moscow and Leningrad.

This was an extraordinary operation, attesting to the efficiency with which Hoover had organized relief for shattered Europe.

Because of Soviet censorship, relief for Russia began only after the famine had reached very serious proportions. In July of 1921, the Bolshevik government permitted Maxim Gorki to make an appeal. The following month an agreement was reached between the American Relief Administration and the Soviet government. Immediately the ARA began moving food supplies into Russia.

The Soviet government agreed to allow American personnel to supervise food distribution. In turn, the ARA gave a formal pledge that American relief workers would not participate in any political activity.

All ARA workers who went into Russia, many of them young, took oaths of abstention. In turn, the Bolshevik government had been wildly exaggerated in a large segment of the press. Both in England and in this country there were many who wanted to crusade against the Bolsheviks.

Yet Congress appropriated nearly $20,000,000 for Russian relief. Nearly $4,000,000 in Red Cross medical supplies were sent out. From voluntary sources, including individual ARA food remittances, came additional funds to bring the total to more than $45,000,000.

An objective study of the Hoover mission in Russia was made by the National Information Board, which specialized in analyzing philanthropic and relief organizations. The board reported:

Deep Impression
"We found evidence everywhere that these efforts have made a deep and lasting impression upon the Russian people as a whole and have aroused a gratitude which will not die. The tendency of certain strident individuals to minimize the work or to feature that of purely voluntary organizations should not be taken too seriously. Though given undue publicity in the equally partisan Soviet press, their assertions do not represent the feeling of the people nor for that matter of many of the less biased communists."

It is less than a year since the Hoover operation after the last war. He says he can prove it by current figures.

ALL HANDS ON DECK
Two timid old maids went to a third-rate country hotel. Immediately after being shown their room they started looking for the fire-escape. They opened a door at the end of the hall and there stood an old man stark naked—just out of the bath. In utter confusion they stammered:

"Where's the fire?"

A New Yorker advertises a Peruvian mummy for sale, and the man at the next desk guesses he is probably asking a stiff price.

How much the timid miss in this world, while others get what they want simply by having the gall to ask for it.

A new insecticide has been discovered for killing flies, which is said to be seven times as effective as DDT, but is still known by its laboratory name of benzene hexachloride. But it will never be popular under that title, no matter how effective it is.

No matter what outrageous price he puts on his property, he usually feels cheated if it is snapped up too quickly.

A new defense for crime was offered in the case of a McKeesport woman who beat her baby to death with a telephone. Her pastor told a coroner's jury the woman was suffering from demomania, in other words, she was being depressed by the enemy of her soul. We presume the innocent little baby was the enemy.

A Green Bay, Wisconsin, man, haled into court for failure to support his two divorced wives and seven children, a total of $148 per month complained that he couldn't do it on a $120 a month salary. The judge suggested he consult an attorney or a mathematician. No doubt about the fact that women have been the downfall of that man.

GI's in Japan complain that the mail service out there now is slower than it was during the war. Maybe it just seems slower to them, since they don't have as many things to worry about as they did when they were fighting. The government blames it on a shortage of planes. How about that whole field full of saw pictures of recently, which were being scrapped?

A man sells secrets to a spy for cash, a woman does it because she is love hungry and he feeds her.

A huck town is a place where each man thinks only of his own profit and blames others for not getting together.

Suppose the older child is a poor reader and in the fifth grade. A reading expert says he can be able to help this poor reader, so much so that he can help himself by reading to another child under six. When this poor reader reads to a younger child he reads to entertain the eager listener.

He has a powerful motive and he can save his face. Naturally, he reads very easy material, the very kind he should practice on, in order to gain in reading skill.

Begin Early
As soon as your baby will look at a picture for a few moments at a stretch talk to him about it. Even earlier, you should sing lullabies and say nursery rhymes to him over and over again day after day.

When you first show him a book, let it be a beautiful one with pictures but not much reading matter on each page. As he looks at the picture you should talk from the book or read about this picture.

As soon as his interest lags, put the book away. Don't leave it with him alone. It may be many months before you should.

Often being back the same lively book. After he has enjoyed it for very brief periods from time to time he will want you to read longer and longer to him. Be happy if he will listen for ten or fifteen minutes at a stretch when he is two or three or even four. If you go on in this way he may want you to read continuously for an hour at a stretch by the time he is five or six. Usually his span of concentration grows gradually, but it will surely grow if you keep at it day after day, week after week, year after year.

A CALL TO AMERICA
Americans are to be asked to mobilize volunteers in the rest of the world's starving millions. Government direction and authority will be needed to avert famine in some quarters of the globe but in great tasks cannot be accomplished without something of the spirit of a humanitarian crusade. As former President Hoover, who has been patriotically called to help, has said, the next four months are critical. Government regulations alone cannot do the job in that time.

Public opinion polls have shown that Americans are ready to give of their abundance to those who are suffering abroad. If the need of some sacrifice is made plain the ability of our people to organize help need not be questioned. To reimpose general food rationing would probably be less effective than appeals to the conscience of the millions of Americans of good will.

Two items, wheat and fat, are critical. While these foods are important to Americans some of the supply can be sacrificed without bringing hardship. The wide variety of the American diet, unknown in other lands, is our protection.

Other countries, such as Canada, are doing their full share in sending food abroad. But for the moment the United States is the only food reservoir which is immediately available. In the interest of humanity we cannot afford to wait and see what others will do.

Sun sets tonight 6:18. Sun rises tomorrow 5:31.

It's the modern bride who learns to her amazement that her grandmother not only had to bake her own bread, but slice it as well.

A Pittsburgh district farmer who owns a herd of 72 cattle came to town hunting butter. He explained that he got such a good price for his milk he quit making butter and said that he "sure does miss it." Now he knows how a lot of us city folks feel when they put up the "no butter" sign.

The March Geographic says the mule is sterile. The Department of Agriculture has some fine mule progeny to prove it isn't.

FLOOD OF ABUSE
It had rained heavily all day and the camp was completely flooded. Going his rounds just before "lights out," the sergeant caught two of the men washing in the floodwater.

"What do you think fellows are doing," he bawled to them. His voice brought an officer to the scene.

"What's the trouble, sergeant?" he asked.

"Why, these dirty bums are washing themselves in the water they're going to sleep in!" was the disgusted reply.

If a machine can do the work of ten men, people must consume ten times as much to provide jobs.

A Swiss newspaper editor, convinced that Americans know more about William Tell, Switzerland, national hero, than the Swiss know about George Washington, tried a quiz on Washington's birthday. He was right. One girl who had a crush on GIs, said he was a famous jazz band leader. A store proprietor said it was the town Roosevelt lived in. Even a school-teacher said she knew because she had required her students to write a composition recently on "The War of Independence and its influence on European history." Now let's see, who was this fellow Tell?

The Sheep Hill Philosopher contends that women of today eat less than their mothers and grandmothers. He says he can prove it by current figures.

ALL HANDS ON DECK
Two timid old maids went to a third-rate country hotel. Immediately after being shown their room they started looking for the fire-escape. They opened a door at the end of the hall and there stood an old man stark naked—just out of the bath. In utter confusion they stammered:

"Where's the fire?"

How much the timid miss in this world, while others get what they want simply by having the gall to ask for it.

A new insecticide has been discovered for killing flies, which is said to be seven times as effective as DDT, but is still known by its laboratory name of benzene hexachloride. But it will never be popular under that title, no matter how effective it is.

No matter what outrageous price he puts on his property, he usually feels cheated if it is snapped up too quickly.

A new defense for crime was offered in the case of a McKeesport woman who beat her baby to death with a telephone. Her pastor told a coroner's jury the woman was suffering from demomania, in other words, she was being depressed by the enemy of her soul. We presume the innocent little baby was the enemy.

A Green Bay, Wisconsin, man, haled into court for failure to support his two divorced wives and seven children, a total of $148 per month complained that he couldn't do it on a $120 a month salary. The judge suggested he consult an attorney or a mathematician. No doubt about the fact that women have been the downfall of that man.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

READING ALOUD TO PRE-SCHOOL CHILD

Nearly 3,000,000 children were born last year in the United States. How wonderful if most of them would be read to from the time they are two or younger till after they enter school. What better way to cultivate good habits of poise and concentration in this lot?

See the opportunity which reading to the little tyke affords the father, mother, grandparent, elder child or parent-substitute to enjoy companionship with this eager little listener.

Practically no young child needs to be denied this privilege. Some excellent books of rhymes and illustrated stories may be bought for a dime or quarter. Wonderful books may be borrowed from the public library. In practically any home is a copy of the Bible full of fascinating prose and poetry. In homes of primary school children are beautiful readers good for reading to the young child.

Artistic Volumes

Ever so many parents, also, can afford to buy one or several of the artistic volumes available for young children, full of nursery rhymes, folk-lore and factual material. Besides, there are several good magazines for children from three to twelve. A list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 43rd Street, New York City.

As you read to the young child, you help him gain in speech. Teachers in the primary grades can spot the child who has been read to a great deal at home for several years. You give the youngster much to think about and talk about. You fire his imagination, stimulate his curiosity and creativeness and enrich his store of knowledge. You develop in him a tenderness toward books and a wish to read to himself. You prepare him to read for meaning later.

Reader Gains

The one child who is read to early also gains in ease and forcefulness of expression, even parents do, especially does the child of eight, ten or fourteen. About the best way for this older child to improve his own reading skill is to read to a baby brother or sister.

Suppose the older child is a poor reader and in the fifth grade. A reading expert says he can be able to help this poor reader, so much so that he can help himself by reading to another child under six. When this poor reader reads to a younger child he reads to entertain the eager listener.

He has a powerful motive and he can save his face. Naturally, he reads very easy material, the very kind he should practice on, in order to gain in reading skill.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Some time ago I wrote that you must earn your way through life and that the permanent measure of your success is what you leave behind you in service to humanity.

Several readers dissented. "We can't all be great," they said. "Are we to be considered failures because we did not have the genius of an Edison, a Pasteur, a Ford, a Ger-swin?"

No, you are not failures. Decidedly not.

Here is a clipping that Noble "Kid" Chissell, a movie actor, sends me from Hollywood.

It tells about an 89-year-old man who just died out there. His name was George Harris. He probably never heard of him. But he was a man who earned his way through life. He was a success.

He was not a great man," says the newspaper article, "nor was he a business tycoon. But of this there is no doubt: He was a good man."

He provided well for his family. He helped scores of little people get a start in business or make the down payment on a home.

He fixed leaking faucets for the neighbors. He never turned the needy away.

As a landlord he was one for the book. During the depression some of his renters

Farewell Banquet Given At Cathedral For Rev. Fredericks

Over 200 Attend Farewell Tendered
Departing Pastor At Cathedral
Thursday Evening

Well over 200 members and friends of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, Vogan street, attended a farewell banquet Thursday evening in the west dining room of the Cathedral, in honor of the departing pastor of the church, Rev. Raymond J. Fredericks, who has resigned his pastorate here to accept a charge at Medina, N. Y.

At the conclusion of the sumptuous fare that was set before the many diners, a program centering around the work of Rev. Fredericks and his family was presented, with many members of the church participating. The program was arranged by James Welker, with Louis Mooney serving as master of ceremonies.

Corsage Presented
Just before the evening program got under way, Mrs. Melba Clark, in behalf of the Women's Missionary society of the church, presented Mrs. Fredericks with a corsage. Graciously responding, Mrs. Fredericks thanked the members of the church and community for the splendid cooperation she has had through the years.

Group singing was led by Rev. Anthony Pasley, with Mrs. Harry Gettings at the piano. A quartet from the Portersville U. P. church was present, singing a special selection. Kenneth Kerr, Mrs. Jennie Phillips and the Welker trio participated with special instrumental or vocal selections.

Mrs. William Walters gave a very fitting review of the work of Rev. Fredericks during the 15 years he had ministered in New Castle, reviewing a portion of the history of the former East New Castle Mission, carrying it on into the life of the present Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, relating the vital part Rev. Fredericks had in the work.

Four Bible students, Helen Anderson, Ruth Swanson, Martha Mills and Charles McKinney gave testimony of the influence that Rev. Fredericks ministry had in their lives.

Purse Presented
Mrs. Chester Dean, Mrs. Izzetta Mori, Mrs. Charles Harris and Mrs. Charlotte Emery were heard in further vocal or instrumental selections, after which Rev. J. C. Fulton, pastor of the Portersville U. P. church, gave testimony of the spiritual work that Rev. Fredericks has accomplished during his pastorate here in the city and the cooperation that he has rendered to the outlying churches of the community.

Proceeding the final testimonial of the banquet, Rev. Fredericks was presented a purse of money from the audience present, with the presentation, being made by William Stoner, president of the Young Peoples society of the church. Rev. Fredericks responded appropriately, thanking the different ones for their confidence in him.

Rev. Oliver Hurst, pastor of the First Baptist church, made the closing speech, lauding the efforts of Rev. Fredericks during his 15-year New Castle ministry. He pointed out the aggressiveness of the departing minister, stating that this city's loss would be the gain of the Medina district.

Rev. Robert Snyder, pastor of the Park Gate Baptist church, Ellwood City, pronounced the benediction.

SAGE KING

Sage King—the Wonder Horse—has made appearance in theatres, fairs and rodeos in more than 30 of our states, and has been greatly acclaimed wherever he appeared. Completely trained by his owner, Curley Miller, Sage King does some 30 tricks. He adds, subtracts, multiplies and divides—imitates various peoples and animals—and poses in the well-known pictures of the west. Seeking to make Sage King different from the usual "high-schooled horse", Curley has taught him some very unusual tricks, among them dance steps such as a cake-walk, park-march, the Congo, and a dance to Pop Goes the Weasel. Sage King always mystifies the audience with his psychic act, in which he tells various members of the audience what color, number, etc., they are thinking of. Acclaimed by critics and horse-men as the "Smartest Horse in the World," Sage King never fails to amaze and delight anyone who sees his truly wonderful performance.

Buckius Appointed Assistant Engineer For State Highway

Former Chief Engineer Of New Castle District Rejoins State Highway Staff

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(INS)—C. H. Buckius, former assistant secretary of highways Thursday was named assistant chief highway engineer by Secretary Ray F. Smock.

The post will pay $9,000 a year. Buckius, who resigned as assistant secretary November 29, 1944, joined the department as chairman in 1947. After he left the department he was associated with a Pittsburgh engineering concern.

"In view of Mr. Buckius' fine record and familiarity with all phases of the highway program we feel that he will be a real asset to our organization and we are all pleased that he has consented to return," Smock said.

Buckius, whose appointment will be effective April 1, was the second veteran employee to return to the department since Smock replaced John U. Shroyer of Shamokin, who was fired for disloyalty.

The first was Thomas C. Frame of Franklin, who was named chief engineer at $10,000 a year. Both officials resigned following disagreements with Shroyer of policy.

Weekly Payroll Of Industry In State $91,173,918

Report Shows 2,285,752 Persons Employed In Industries Of State In January

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(INS)—The department of labor and industry has estimated 2,285,752 persons were employed in Pennsylvania industries during January, while weekly payrolls amounted to an estimated $91,173,918. Weekly industrial wages averaged $39.98 during February compared with the previous month, the department added.

"The Pennsylvania Angler," organ of the State Fish Commission, has published a chart illustrating how the "fisherman's dollar" was spent during 1935. The chart pointed out that 54.26 per cent was expended for hatching, propagation and distribution of fish, 21.43 per cent for salaries and expenses of wardens and 6.14 per cent for administration. In addition, 5.99 per cent was earmarked for the revenue and state departments while 18 per cent was expended for research, boat patrol, purchase of land and waters and the funded fines.

Should Secretary of Internal Affairs Livengood wage a successful campaign for another four-year term he will be the third person to head the department for three terms. Others were Henry Houck of Pottsville, 1907-1917, and James P. Woodward of McKeesport, 1919-1931. Woodward was the only secretary to serve three full terms. Houck died in the middle of his third term.

Total Quaker expenditures for German relief in March were reported over the $300,000 mark.

The committee disclosed, too, that it is seeking governmental allocations to buy for use in Germany during the next three months one million 200 thousand pounds of laundry soap, 400,000 pounds of sugar, one million pounds of vegetable oils and fats, 15 million units of insulin, two million units of penicillin, and 6,000 pounds of soy bean oil.

Quaker relief is going on in Poland, too, the committee revealed, as well as in America. An estimated $100,000 will be spent in Poland and $400,000 in Austria in the next few weeks.

YOUNG PRINCE CUTS BACON IN VILLAGE STORE

LONDON.—(INS)—Cutting bacon in a village butcher shop is hardly an avocation for a prince, but truth be told, it is for Prince Michael, 3, youngest son of the Duchess of Kent, has strange tastes for one of his noble lineage. Every day when his nurse takes him walking in his home village of Iwer, Buckingham county, he guides her along to Mr. Platt's, the grocer. "Good morning, Mr. Platt," he says in a most dignified manner, "please may I turn the handle?" "The way he enjoys watching the slices of bacon peeling off is good to watch," said the store manager. "He likes it as much as most kiddies would a pantomime—and he's useful, too. I leave the bacon for him to cut. "All the Duchess' children come in as they wander round the village. Sometimes they collect a packet of soap flakes or something and take it back with them," he added. "I've watched them grow up, and they are beautifully brought-up children. Not an ounce of snobbery among the lot—especially young Michael. "He told me very seriously the other day that he would sooner turn the handle of the bacon machine than do anything else. "And mind you, having spent pretty near a lifetime in this business, I'd say if he weren't a prince, he might do a fair sight worse . . .

Architect Finds Priority Tough

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—(INS)—A 75-year-old Pittsburgh architect today was told he can't have his home and live in it, too. H. C. Clepper, owns a three-story house which was swept by fire nearly three months ago. He has rented the second and third floors for May 1 occupancy to veterans, if he can get them repaired by then. He and his family will live on the first floor. But Federal housing authority officials told him he could not have a priority for building material unless he also rented the first floor to a veteran.

Vanity Of Man On Par With Women

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Vanity thy name is man—as well as woman. So say Chicago merchants. Bald-headed men hold that if public figures can wear toupees, why should they keep their hats on? So explained the top man of a hair goods company. His business has increased 50 per cent in the last five years. A shoe store advertises male footwear that will "increase your height one and three-quarter inches . . . instantly." Short men and some tall ones buy a total of 300 pairs a week and the only reason they don't buy more is the manufacturers can't supply them, a buyer declared. "They give a psychological lift as well as a physical lift—make a fellow feel like he really is somebody." The Master Barbers' association claims women are no fussier about hair than men. And manicures for the man about town are on the up-grade. Only in purchasing jewelry do men take a back seat. Even for cuff-links, rings and stickpins, purchases still are made by female relatives or friends.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—Even rodents are making the trip across the Pacific to this continent, according to naturalists at the University of British Columbia. Trappers along the Koksilah river and Somers creek districts of Vancouver Island reported to university officials recently that they have been finding a new type of fur-bearing rat. Specimens show that the animal is of Siberian origin and apparently came to this continent by way of one of the Russian ships loading lumber at Cowichan Bay.

Slippery Rock Pilot Solos In Record Time

Charles E. Mills, R. D. 2 Slippery Rock, set up a new record at the New Castle Airport, Thursday, when he soloed in the record time of six and a half hours in an Army P. T. 19. The normal time for soloing in such planes is 8 to 10 hours. Mills, who is 22 years old, is a truck driver, and has taken up flying with the Gargasz Flying school. His instructor, during his period of training, was Robert Bretz, recent dischargee of the Navy, who is one of the instructors at the local flying school.

We've got to decide quickly whether freedom gives cranks and traitors the right to serve a foreign master who is trying to destroy freedom. "At what age is bread at its best?" —Adv. Well, it is best for eating purposes when it is just too old to wad into balls for throwing purposes.

Will Make Public Third Report In Canada Spy Case

OTTAWA, March 29.—(INS)—Canadian government officials said today that the third interim report of the Royal Commission investigating Soviet espionage in the dominion will be made public this afternoon.

The commission, which has been working 12 to 14 hours a day questioning suspects, will prefer charges against five men, the last of the 13 persons taken into custody when the inquiry started several weeks ago.

The other eight have already been charged with violating the official secrets act and with conspiring with Soviet agents.

In addition to these 13, Dr. Allan Nunn May is held in London, England, and Fred Rose, Communist member of the Canadian Parliament, has been held for trial on similar charges.

When Rose was ordered held for trial yesterday in Montreal the conspiracy charge against him was amended to include the names of seven Russians who have been attached to the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa.

At a preliminary hearing for Capt. David Gordon Lunan, an officer in the war-time information service, yesterday in Ottawa, the conspiracy charge against him will probably be similarly amended.

Alexander Asks People To Help Keep Parks Clean

One of the duties charged to Joseph D. Alexander as director of parks and properties is to see that the municipal parks are clean and in beautiful attire during the spring and summer and already the director has conferred with City Forester Owen Fox and beautification after months of cold, frost, sleet, snow and ice, has begun.

Grass is being cut in city parks which are being cleaned of rubbish because at times people discard empty packages which contained cigarettes, bags and other papers in the parks as they stroll through. Believing that civic pride may be displayed by all, Mr. Alexander has asked the public to cooperate with Mr. Fox.

"Do not walk on the grass. Deposit empty bags and like material in the waste paper boxes" was the request he made today.

According to Mr. Alexander, Fox is improving.

Public Square parks: Laurel boulevard, Liberty park, Triangle park, near Mt. Jackson highway, West Side park, Jackson park, Water street park, Croton avenue, near the school and also the Memorial plot there and Neshamock park in Croton avenue on the east side of Neshamock creek.

Von Ribbentrop Claims He Tried To Avert Conflict

NUMERBERG, March 29.—(INS)—Joachim von Ribbentrop, picturing himself as a lover of peace, claimed today that he had asked Adolf Hitler to call off his military preparations when he learned of the Anglo-Polish pact before the war.

Receiving word of the treaty, Ribbentrop said he told the Fuehrer: "It means war with England."

He also claimed on the stand at the Nuernberg war criminals trial that Hitler was prepared in 1935 to fly to England in the interests of international peace.

The former Nazi foreign minister, describing himself as an idealist who sought only to re-establish Germany's reputation before the world, said that at the last minute British Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin cancelled the projected Hitler visit. The Fuehrer and Baldwin were to have conferred at Chequers, the British government mansion outside London.

MUST RE-PURCHASE OLD BUILDING HE THOUGHT HE OWNED

LEBANON, Pa., March 29.—(INS)—Frank C. Boyer, prospective Lebanon service station operator, today was in need of $10,000.

Boyer thought he had title to an old mill, which he had ordered razed to make way for a service station, when up popped the Lebanon county commissioners.

"Nothing doing," they said in effect, the county owns that building which was bought for taxes at a treasurer's sale. You can have it by paying the taxes."

Nova Scotia is thought to have been first discovered in 1497 by John Cabot, who sailed under the English flag. The first settlers, however, were French.

"I heard the steam-heated houses, with a temperature of 72°—English bride. So do we, lady. If it isn't 74, we nearly freeze."

W.C.T.U. Institute Here On Thursday

Bi-County Institute Delegates Hear
Inspiring Addresses At Meetings
In First Methodist Church

Meeting Thursday, in the First Methodist church, Jefferson at North streets, for an all-day session, members of the Lawrence and Mercer County W. C. T. U. held a Bi-County Institute, with a good attendance at both morning and afternoon meetings.

Registration of the guests was taken care of by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Lawrence County corresponding secretary, with Mrs. J. E. Pringle, presiding over the morning session.

Members of the Institute were greeted by Mrs. C. M. Moore, of New Castle, with a fitting response being given by Mrs. H. C. Webster, of Greenville.

Following a talk by Mrs. J. B. Albin, of Grove City, who used "Our Bible at Work" as her theme, Mrs. F. J. Fox, Lawrence County recording secretary, presented the literature of the program. Mrs. Floyd Worrell, Lawrence County vice president, and Mrs. Joseph Houk, Lawrence County treasurer, fittingly sang a duet entitled "The Savior for Me."

Morning Speaker

Mrs. Albin Sherburne, of Johnstown, director of scientific temperance instruction of the state, principal morning speaker, demonstrated to the group through the means of the flammograph, scientific experiments of the effects of alcohol on plant life, bringing out the fact how harmful and injurious it is to the human body.

The Lawrence County executive group met for business, preceding the afternoon meeting, with a number of decisions reached. It was announced that the Y. T. C. encampment will be held this year, from July 17 to 20 at Dickinson college, Williamsport, Pa.

The Liberty Grange Institute will be held, April 11, with the County Institute taking place May 23. An endorsement was made of the work of W. J. Coulter, of New Wilmington, who is placing temperance ads in the various papers of the county.

It was publicly announced that the various unions, throughout the county, had contributed generously to the fund, which will provide amputee chairs for the wounded veterans of World War II. Plainsboro union was given credit for the largest amount, $75 contributed, with $37.50 each being contributed by the New Wilmington union and the Friendship guild of the Plainsboro Presbyterian church. The other county and city unions were generous in their gifts.

Afternoon Session

Getting under way at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Joseph E. Pringle, Lawrence County president in charge, the afternoon session began with a devotional period, directed by Rev. Joseph Pringle, of Ellwood City. Mrs. Joseph Phillips sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Down from His Glory" as solos. Mrs. Charlotte Emery ably played an accordion selection, which was well received.

The speaker of the afternoon, Dr. C. G. Quigley, of Butler, spoke on the subject "Alcoholics Anonymous," the name of an organization of which he is a member. He outlines the steps of the society, which was organized by a man, who at one time was an alcohol addict. The twelve points of the association were outlined, revealing that the organization's existence was to help men and women obtain sobriety.

Following a few brief announcements, the session was closed.

Lenten Class Draws Attendance Of 225

Two hundred and twenty-five women attended the first of the Lenten Bible classes in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium Thursday evening, making the largest opening attendance the class has ever had.

Mrs. J. J. McVaine, teacher of the class, discussed the first 30 years of Christ's life, pointing out that the world would not have been ready for Him if He had come into it earlier. Without the system of Roman roads throughout all of the known world, plus the universal knowledge of the Greek and Latin languages, knowledge of Christ's appearance would have been extremely limited, Mrs. McVaine explained.

These classes, which are open to all of the women and girls of Lawrence county, will continue through the remaining three weeks of Lent. They meet on Thursday mornings at 10:30 in the auditorium of the central Y. W. C. A.

This year is the ninth that Mrs. McVaine has taught the class, and under her leadership it has grown larger each year.

Garden Notes

Early vegetables can be planted in the driest part of the garden, including lettuce, radishes, onions, parsley and beets. As soon as the weather is settled, early cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower plants should be set out.

In early planting, seed treatment to prevent rot is very much worth while. There are several seed-treating dusts on the market. Put a pinch or two into a packet of seeds and shake.

Some of the early irises such as Iris cristata can be dug from the garden in small clumps and planted in pots for enjoyment indoors regardless of the severity of the weather outside.

Evergreen needle-bearing shrubs, like dwarf Japanese yew, which are used as hedges or for other dense effects, should have their tips of young growth cut back when they are a couple of inches long.

Hardy annuals may be sown outside where they are to flower as soon as the soil is workable.

Whereas hardy chrysanthemums, phlox, perennial asters, bellonias and similar perennials benefit by being taken up and divided every year or so, other kinds like platycodon, peonies, gas-plant or dictamnus and hellebores should not be disturbed.

Blonde Amnesia Victim Is Hunted; In Search For Boy

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Police sought an unidentified blonde amnesia victim today in connection with their intensive search for three-year-old Mavor Trobman who disappeared from his Philadelphia home (1319 W. Girard Ave.) last Wednesday morning.

Search for the woman was launched after her husband received a telegram sent from a Philadelphia drug store. The wire read: "Don't worry. I'll be home tonight." The husband told a friend, who notified detectives of the message.

The friend told police the woman was subject to frequent loss of memory and that she had mentioned on several occasions the premature death of her own infant son.

The woman, who used to live near the Trobman, has been missing since a short time before the boy vanished from the sidewalk in front of his home.

Detectives said her description tallied generally with that of a blonde woman who was seen walking with a child resembling the Trobman boy.

William Fields, 45, the witness, said a dark-haired man was with them.

School Superintendent Tells Accomplishments Since Survey Was Made

Achievements during the past year since the survey of the New Castle school system in carrying out recommendations of the survey and other points in the recommendations ready to put into execution during the coming school year were discussed by Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of city schools, at a meeting of the League of Women Voters Thursday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A.

Outlines Accomplishments
Dr. Burton outlined the specific things already accomplished and answered a number of questions from the audience at the conclusion of his talk. Mrs. Lyle Hughes presided and introduced the speaker. For one thing, he said, the previous policy that every teacher new to the system, regardless of his or her actual teaching experience, must start at the minimum salary has been abandoned.

Teachers with a master's degree have received recognition in the form of a small annual bonus and it is planned to increase this amount in succeeding years.

Improvements Planned
Concerning improvements of the cafeteria and the gymnasium at Senior High school, while plans are tentative at the present time, this recommendation of the survey will be acted on as soon as possible.

At Mahoning school, purchase of properties at the rear of the building, together with the present small play yard, will provide room to build a school and community center auditorium and allow for a large play yard.

During the past year the school system put $5,000 into the city recreation fund and opened the school gymnasiums to 900 boys for evening basketball games.

For the first time in many years night classes for adult enrollment are operating in the city school buildings at the present time and, in accordance with enrollment, present plans are to continue these next year.

A new coordinated course in mathematics for the schools has been set up and with new textbooks will be put into effect next year.

Likewise art and music courses, planned as a comprehensive whole, from first grade through high school, have been drawn up ready for starting. Likewise a new English course is ready for operation next year.

A teacher guidance committee, encompassing all schools of the city has been organized. Vocational guidance tests and counseling are available to all Senior High school students.

Cumulative Record Card
Beginning next year, each pupil entering school will have a cumulative record card for all grades, first through high school. The cards are ready and filing equipment has been provided by the School board.

As suggested by the survey, the board has granted each teacher one day a year with pay during which she may visit classes in other schools. It was recommended, also, that the board pay expenses of teachers to certain educational state and national conventions and this practice has been begun.

Between $3,000-$4,000 has been spent for visual aids to education, maps, globes, slides, pictures, etc.

Dr. Burton's clear account of present plans for our schools and the progress to date toward meeting recommendations of the survey drew many interested questions from those present.

Reports Given
Reports on national legislation and state legislation were given by Miss Marguerite Uhl and Mrs. James Gillespie respectively.

Nominating committee report was given by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine.

Announcement was made of the distribution of handbills urging residents to vote in the May primary election with the reminder that Saturday, March 30, is the last day to register in order to be eligible to vote.

Atty. Gen. James H. Duff has replied in the affirmative to the invitation of the New Castle League of Women Voters to speak in New Castle at a date to be announced later.

To Push Program In Effort To Free Ten Toll Bridges

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(INS)—Secretary of Highways Ray P. Smock said today he intended to push the state's $7,000,000 program to free 10 privately owned toll bridges to "carry out the wishes of the legislature."

"Nothing can be done at the present time, however, because we're waiting for a court decision," he declared.

Smock said the urgency of both the toll bridge and road improvement programs had prompted his rehiring of C. H. Buckius, of Mt. Gretna, as assistant chief engineer effective April 1. Buckius resigned as chief engineer in November, 1944, during a personnel turnover conducted by former secretary John U. Shover. Buckius earlier had been assistant highways secretary.

The People's Bridge company, of Harrisburg, has asked an injunction in Dauphin County Court to restrain the Highway department from purchasing any bridge until it was determined whether all could be acquired for $7,000,000.

The action was taken as the department was about to purchase a toll span at Sunbury for $650,000. Owners of their bridges have asked higher prices than the department offered.

EDUCATION MINDED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (INS)—Tennessee has an above-average percentage of youths seeking a college education, and approximately one out of three of them must go to some other state to get the collegiate training desired, according to a study made by Dean Fred C. Smith of the University of Tennessee. Figures compiled by Dean Smith showed that around 82 out of every 10,000 Tennesseans are college students as compared with 75 per 10,000 population in the nation as a whole.

Investment Trusts Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, March 29.—In view of the tremendous growth in the business of investment companies, readers of this column should realize their possibilities, both as a service to the small investor and as a factor in stabilizing the present stock market.

Investment companies are divided into two main groups: the closed-end companies are the old-fashioned investment trusts, of which there are a large number scattered throughout the United States. There, however, are only a few large ones, the securities of which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. As examples of these companies, I might mention Lehman Corporation, Adams Express, Atlas Corporation and Tri-Continental.

These closed-end companies have a definite amount of capital stock which is not increased or decreased. When an investor buys such stock he does not buy of the company but, through a stock-exchange broker, must buy the stock of someone else who desires to sell. As a rule these companies do not diversify very broadly but usually confine themselves to special situations in which they purchase a large interest. Often stocks of these companies sell for less than the real liquidating value of the securities which they hold. This is an advantage to the investor when buying such stocks; but a disadvantage when selling.

"Open-End" Companies
When a salesman calls upon you to sell you the shares of an investment company it will probably be an open-end company where the amount of stock outstanding varies from day to day. There are about 75 of such active open-end companies. For instance, if the salesman should sell today $100,000 worth of these shares, when the check comes into the company it will go into the stock market and invest this $100,000 in perhaps 20 high-grade listed stocks, which stocks will be held in the company's treasury. Then the company will issue $100,000 worth of new shares which will be mailed out to the above-mentioned investors.

It will be seen, therefore, that these open-end investment companies provide a very good method of diversification for small investors. Naturally, the investor must pay something for this service. All "open-end" investment companies add a sales charge to the asset value of their shares and this charge normally runs around 8 1/2 per cent. There is, however, no charge for liquidation of a holding except in very rare instances and in such cases it is usually less than 1 per cent. Without getting into the minute details of the computation, the bare figure of asset value is arrived at by the number of outstanding shares and adding to this the sales charge. This net asset value figure is what is used to determine the price paid at liquidation.

Different Classes Of Open-End Shares
Among the larger of these open-end companies might be mentioned the Massachusetts Investors Trust, Keystone Custodian Funds, Incorporated Investors, and the State Street Investment Corporation. These companies often have different funds. One fund may be limited to common stocks, another fund to preferred stocks, and another to bonds. Moreover, in some cases the above divisions may be divided into "high-grade with low return" which might mean six or more different funds. This enables an investor to decide for himself the character of securities in which he desires to invest but still insure him broad diversification in the group which he selects. Furthermore, there is no reason why an investor cannot select more than one group, if he so desires, and thus get a double form of diversification.

Investment Companies and the General Stock Market

Investors buying the shares of any investment company should realize that there is nothing guaranteed, either as to the annual income to be received or what cash will be returned if one desires to sell. The market price of the shares in investment companies must go up and down with the general stock market. It is not like putting your money in the savings bank or in government bonds where you know exactly what interest you are going to get and that you can get back the same principal that you put in, no more and no less. Therefore, when buying the shares of an investment company the general stock market averages should be considered.

In the early days, these investment companies were not a market factor; but today they should contribute as a stabilizer of the entire stock market. For instance, it is estimated that about 1500 firms throughout the country, with an average of five salesmen each, are selling every day the shares of investment companies. They are turning in to the New York Stock Exchange, in purchases, nearly $50,000,000 per month, which is nearly 5 per cent of the total transaction. It is possible that one-half of the stocks now being liquidated by insurance companies, educational institutions and trust funds are now being absorbed by these thousands of small investors throughout the country who are daily purchasing the shares of these investment companies. These companies are a cushion which the stock market has never had in the past and, until the holders of these shares liquidate, which previous history shows that as a rule they do not, these investment companies are performing an economic stabilizing service to the holders of all stocks.

Fairly Firm Stock Market Expected
Today the stock market is very little influenced by typical old time speculators. The fact that he must pay 100 per cent cash for his purchases has pretty much eliminated him from the market. Wall Street and most brokers are now largely "sold out" and the market is in the hands of real investors throughout the country who—either directly or through these investment companies—have the securities paid for and in safe deposit boxes. They are holding these for income; only some panicky event could cause them to sell.

Days when the market is strong there usually is considerable profit taking. So long as the investment companies and other legitimate investors can absorb these sales, the market holds firm. When such selling exceeds the buying power of these investment companies, and small investors the market sells off. When the buying power of these investment companies—spurred on by 7500 active salesmen—exceeds the selling, the market continues to rise. It is true that we have a "thin market" today, but this need not prevent it selling at these levels or above for many months to come.

CONTROL IS URGED FOR BROWN ROT SPORES

Control measures such as immediate removal of all mummified fruit from the trees, cultivation and a pink spray in peach orchards are necessary to combat brown rot spores of which many have been developing rapidly during the mild weather of early March.

Many peach orchards in 1945 had a heavier branch and fruit infection of brown rot than for many years, with the result there is a large carry-over of the fungus for starting the disease this year. This situation requires thorough and complete control measures if blossom, twig and finally fruit rot is to be prevented.

The peach orchard should be cultivated before the bud shows pink. This helps prevent the old mummified fruit from forming the spore-producing fungus.

The pink spray should be applied between the time the buds show pink and before they come into full bloom. Use wettable sulphur, preferably the paste type at 12 pounds per 100 gallons of the dry types at manufacturer's recommendations.

Television Will Be Absorbing Show

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—(INS)—"Television will enslave people for hours a day and largely fill the minds of the nation."

This was the prediction today of Dr. S. C. Gillfillan, University of Chicago sociologist who is participating in the annual convention of the American Association for the advancement of science in St. Louis.

Dr. Gillfillan said that television is just around the corner and will soon be able to present the nation with any spectacle that can occur on a stage or outdoors.

All the philosophies, he stated, will be reflected, reiterated, and argued with cogent or persuasive proof and cumulative mass effect by means of television.

Says United States Must Aid China

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(INS)—Responsible officials today claimed that failure of the United States to aid China would mean the loss of approximately 50 percent of American gains in the Pacific as a result of the war.

Gen. George C. Marshall, President Truman's special envoy to China, was reported to have emphasized this point in his talks with United States officials in this country.

He was reported to have said that China is a "must" item in plans for American aid on the basis that the alternative is "chaos and confusion." Marshall told a news conference 10 days ago that he regarded the United States record in China as one essential to world peace.

Marshall was also reported to feel that obtaining an integrated democracy in China is hampered by the illiteracy of the people—estimated to run at about 80 percent of the population.

It has been recommended it was learned that radio and movies be used in any election campaigns in order to overcome the handicap imposed by illiteracy.

Food Program To Be Outlined In State Session

To Draw Up Plans For Conservation Of Food In State-Wide Meeting In Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(INS)—A food conservation program for Pennsylvania was slated to be outlined at Harrisburg today during a meeting of officials of the Agriculture Adjustment Agency and state-wide trade and civic organizations.

Reduced consumption of grains and fats and elimination of waste must be accomplished, according to Clyde A. Zehner, manager of the AAA emergency food committee.

"We want to get across to the public the need of conserving wheat and fats without causing panic and hoarding," he explained. "Actually there is more food in the country today than before the war."

Zehner said more than 100 persons had been asked to serve on an advisory committee. They included clergymen, newsmen, representatives of the Pennsylvania Bakers' and Millers' association, Pennsylvania Hotel association and several farm organizations.

Sub-committees on food have been established in each of the AAA's 67 county offices to establish local weekly conservation goals, he added.

Each of the county groups has been asked to make weekly reports on the progress of the campaign to the state office, Zehner said.

"We have urged them to remind housewives that much fat can be

American Officer Comes To Defense Of Gen. Mihailovich

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—(INS)—A young OSS officer today came to the defense of Gen. Draja Mihailovich declared the Yugoslavian leader of the Chetniks deserves at least a fair trial before the UNO for his service to Americans.

Mihailovich, recently captured by the Yugoslav Partisan forces, is scheduled to go on trial for treason.

Capt. George Musulin, 31, of Pittsburgh, was reported to have been asked to testify in Mihailovich's behalf. The young member of the Office of Strategic Services who spent nine months at the Chetnik headquarters declared:

"I would certainly testify for General Mihailovich. His position today is a direct result of Russian pressure and part of propaganda."

Captain Musulin, who parachuted into Chetnik headquarters twice during the war, added:

"I feel that Mihailovich is the only figure in the Balkans who represents democracy. He is the only block to Tito's ambitions."

At the J. R. Frew company's Cooking School for Brides which has proved so popular that membership has increased to 80 from an opening enrollment of 50. Miss Helen Vernon, home economist, on Thursday evening demonstrated several tasty dishes calculated to make any bride's returned veteran feel well fed.

Miss Vernon's suggestions, made to an eager audience in the Frew Co. store, had one eye on the food budget and one on the "basic seven."

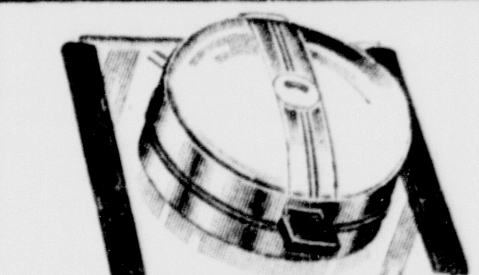

The menu for the evening was a macaroni and liver dish, a baked bean and stoner casserole made with an enlivening touch of dried dill pickle, cauliflower with cheese sauce and carrots for vegetables, a jello salad with pear halves, and a peach and pear pie.

She told the brides and prospective brides how to get a head of lettuce to last apart every head to garnish a vegetable plate to look attractive, give it "eye appeal," and how to make a meringue for a pie. She gave many more hints helpful to beginner cooks and the girls responded with numerous questions.

Russians Barter Household Goods To Get Clothing

MOSCOW. — (INS)—Many Russians are keeping warm this winter by a resort to barter which can be expressed in the phrase "ikons for underwear."
The Communist economy provides a minimum of clothing for all, but everybody wants a little more. To acquire enough for real comfort, Russians are willing to barter their household goods—and even their household goods.

Foreigners passing through Moscow like to acquire ikons for souvenirs — those beautiful hand wrought plaques which have been used for centuries in Russia as domestic shrines. They may be had for a high price in rubles, but for a very moderate price in used but usable clothing.
I speak from experience. I wanted to buy a couple of ikons to take home. I went to a dealer. He showed me his assortment, and I selected two.
"How much are these?" I asked.
"That depends on what you want to pay with," he replied.
Somewhat puzzled, I answered that if he didn't want rubles I had some French francs and also some German marks.
"You do not understand," he said. And then he gave a little tug at the collar of my shirt. "Have you a nice shirt like this to trade?"
In the end we made a deal on the basis of one used suit of heavy underwear, one used pair of shoes and one used sleeveless sweater. These articles had little value.
The ikons I acquired would have cost me 1,200 rubles.
In Russia, as in most of the Former Wacs Return To Old Army Posts

CAMP CARSON, Colo. — (INS)—Seven Wacs left the army, bought new civilian clothes and a return ticket to their former base, Camp Carson. They came back to the same jobs they had as Wacs, but under civil service.
Reasons were: "Good jobs," familiarity with the work, Colorado's climate, and veterans' preference on civil service jobs.
Mrs. Ardis Glaser of Baunette, Minn., was one of the first Wacs to arrive at Camp Carson, back in 1943. She returned to her job as education and information clerk, a week after her army discharge. She had a particular inducement to return—her husband, William Glaser, whom she met at Camp Carson, is working in Colorado Springs.
Miss Wanda Allen of Lubbock, Tex., returned as personnel clerk, because it was a "good job." Miss Elizabeth Ballige of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., chose to return as chief clerk in military personnel at the camp, rather than return to teaching.
Also back as civilians in their former army assignments were: Helen Lyle Missoula, Mont., Emeline Riley, Cortland, N. Y., Helen Bartz, El Paso, Tex., and Mary Montgomery, Central Falls, R. I.
Political note: Being loyal to those who helped you is commendable, but people like it better if you were helped by nice guys.
Louis Bleriot of France made the first flight over the English Channel.

Aerial Photogs Played Key Role In Beating Japs

BUCKLEY FIELD, Colo. — (INS)—Major Henry B. Allen and his gallant band of aerial photographers will emerge as special heroes when the full account of the Army Air Forces role in the last phase of the war against Japan is written.
Hindson Maj. Allen, of San Dimas, Cal., is now with the 91st Reconnaissance Squadron at Buckley Field. It was Major Allen and his buddies, then with Flight C of the First Reconnaissance Squadron, who sought out the Jap fleet and kept it in their lenses—until Admiral Nimitz could loose his carrier force.
Flight C is credited with an "assist" in the destruction of the bulk of Nip shipping, including the enormous battleship, the Yamato. Flight C was a component part of the 311th Reconnaissance wing at Buckley Field.
Assigned to find the Jap fleet immediately before the invasion of Okinawa, the roving B-29s spotted four carriers, four cruisers and two battleships—the Ise and the Yamato—at the Kure naval base. The next day they followed the enemy ships as they steamed out through the Shimonoseki Straits to the China Sea and across to Korea.

Soon afterwards, dive bombers of our fleet proceeded to reduce the entire works to scrap metal. The prime accomplishment was the sinking of the Yamato—comparable to our Iowa class in tonnage and fire power.
Previously Major Allen was flying a B-24 with the 24th Combat Mapping Squadron, helping to map practically everything from Rangoon to the Korean coast. Each flight involved travel across some 600 miles of occupied China.

ARMY NO SMALL MONEY JOB TO ONE SERGEANT
PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS)—Who says the army is a $50-a-month job? S-Sgt. Tom White, a veteran of eight years, figured he was paid $1,487 simply for re-enlisting recently.
Mustering out pay, $300.
Travel allowance 5 cents per mile to West Virginia for his furlough home, $300.
Pay and allowances on three-month furlough $487.
Re-enlistment bonus, $50 per year of service, $400.
Total, $1,487.

3-Dimensional Paint Used By Chicago Artist

CHICAGO—Nick Nichols, 46-year-old Chicago cartoonist, was tired of painting flat noses and flat folds on canvas, so he remedied the situation.
Nichols invented a three-dimensional paint called "plas-i-toon." The result of two years' research, it is made of white plastic powder mixed with a glue liquid base.
He applies it with a brush in layers until he has the desired curve on his canvas, cloth or wood. Plas-i-toon will not break after application, but it will wash off. It cannot be applied successfully to glass, the artist learned.
To "build" his painting, Nichols outlines the picture. Then he brushes on a colorless liquid base, followed by an application of white plastic powder. The last application is a combination of powder and liquid.
Nichols found that oil paints may be mixed with the last coating for color. In water color, it's better to paint the colorless plastic form for delicate shading.

Besides its use in portraits, landscapes, book illustrations and place cards, Nichols said it has been recommended as an important art in occupational therapy.
The cartoonist-artist-inventor spends one day a week with handicapped veterans in army hospitals. They are his first students in the new art.

The orange-utan has few natural enemies, of which large serpents and crocodiles are the most important, and even of these the oranges have little fear. They are not alarmed at the appearance of man.

'Buffalo Bill' Cody To Be Commemorated

DENVER.—(INS)—Several festivals will be held in the Denver area this summer to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody.
The Denver Convention and Visitors Bureau's manager, Clarence N. Hooker, announced tentative plans for a parade to pioneer flavor in Denver and a pageant in the spectacular open-air theater of the Red Rocks.
The amphitheater is only a few miles from Buffalo Bill's tomb, on the top of Lookout mountain. An equestrian statue will be erected on the mountain's top, as part of the centennial observance. A stone monument and a museum now are located at the site.

The Boy Scouts will also plan their own special observance in honor of the famed pioneer scout. The State Historical Museum in Denver will have a summer-long exhibit of relics and mementoes of the man whose fame spread throughout Europe as well as America.
The modern game of lacrosse originated among the North American Indians.

Announce Winners Of Tourney Awards

John "Rags" Gennock Picked As Outstanding Player To Compete In Tournament

K. Pulaski Club Receives Trophy Many Other Prizes Given Tourney Cagers

James Dart, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., tabulating the decisions of the three judges of the city-county basketball tournament, has announced the award winners for the matches, a total of 78 prizes given for outstanding play.

The final decisions were made by the three judges who witnessed all the contests. They were Lynn Irwin, Fred McClure, and "Tip" Richards, men who know their basketball well, and used shrewd observation to arrive at their selections.

Best Players
Picked as the outstanding individual in the tourney was John "Rags" Gennock, star forward on the Columbus club five, whose fine play earned him a gold medal. A silver medal goes to Paul Morrison of the Polish Falcons, the judges' second choice. Guido Santangelo, of the Fannins, receives a bronze medal, picked as the third best in the tourney.

Gennock also copped the high scoring honors in the games, dumping in 20 field goals and 14 fouls for 54 points, and the best effort in the tourney. For this he gets the high point medal.

"Chuck" Jameson of the East Brook Boosters made the highest number of points in one game, getting 23 against the Forrest A. C. and also receives a medal for his effort.

Makes Best Shot
For making the best shot of the tourney, a medal goes to Jack Sterling of the Ellwood City Socials, who laid in a beauty in the game with the Columbus club in the quarter-finals.

To the ten outstanding men who were eliminated in the opening round go merit medals. The players chosen were: Craine and Bennett of Wampum; McGary and Tannet of the County All-Stars; Jacobs of the Forrest A. C.; Cole and Daubenspeck of the Ellwood VFW; Stewart and Ross of the Castle Five; and Ward of the Youngsters' Five.

Three all-tourney teams were selected, with gold medals going to the first team, silver to the second, and bronze to the third. Members of the first team are: John Gennock, Columbus club; Santangelo and Nahas of the Fannins; Paul Morrison of the Falcons; and Stan "Fish" Wasik of the K. Pulaski team.

Second team was as follows: "Chuck" Jameson of East Brook Boosters; B. Tanner of the Variety Five; Joe Dougherty of the Ellwood Socials; Don Heddeleston of the K. Pulaski; and George "Pop" Adams, Polish Falcons.

Third team selections were: Joe Cooper, Fred Wimer and "Bus" Strausbaugh of the K. Pulaski squad; John Zubkowsky of the Falcons; and Nick Gennock, Columbus club.

Sportsmanship Team

Five medals were given to the players who showed the most sportsmanlike attitude during the tourney. Those selected were: Guy Bennett, Wampum; B. Tanner, Variety Five; Janacone, Fannins; Pelto, Bessemer Indies; and Don Heddeleston, K. Pulaski.

For the first four teams to place in the tournament went ten charms to each squad, the K. Pulaski team receiving the gold prizes, the Polish Falcons getting the silver awards, the Columbus club receiving bronze medals, and the Fannins receiving medals.

Pulaskis Get Trophy

The beautiful championship trophy, donated by Jack Gerson, and suitable for name inscription, goes to the champion K. Pulaski team, while the manager, Al Gonet, receives a medal for being the leader of the winning squad.

Since it was not deemed practical to award the prizes at the final matches, James Dart has announced that the recipients of the awards should call at the "Y" anytime during the next week and get their medals.

Mr. Dart wishes to thank the judges for their time and effort in making the selections, and also wishes to express his thanks to the fine cooperation of all the entries in the tourney. It is the desire of the "Y" to again stage the matches next year at which time even more coveted awards will be given.

Johnny Nolan, big Penn State football tackle, is a standout in lacrosse this spring.

K. Pulaski 1946 City-County Champs

By defeating the Polish Falcons 54-47 Wednesday night at the "Y" floor, the K. Pulaski club won the City-County cage championship, and are shown immediately following their well-earned victory.

County Nines Pay Franchises

Seven Teams In Fold Of League; No Word Of Eighth Team Has Been Received

Seven baseball teams paid their franchises last night at a meeting of the Lawrence County Baseball league, with the entrance of an eighth into the loop still up in the air.

Castlewood, Hillsville, Ellwood Socials, Bessemer, Wampum, Edenburg and the Ellwood VFW are definite members of the circuit. Contrary to earlier reports, the Wampum club will definitely play in the league, James Martin, secretary, announced today.

There has been some talk of Princeton and New Galilee entering teams, but unless the eighth club makes application for admission within the next five days, the league will begin the season with the seven clubs already in the fold.

Official schedule will open Sunday, May 5, and the teams will play three times weekly, Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays. The Sunday games will be in the afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock, while the week-day contests will be twilight affairs, beginning at 6 p. m.

Holmbeck Is Adonis Of Mat

Conqueror Of Aged Eric Erickson To Take On Bing Hall In Semi-Final Bout

When the wrestlers climb through the ropes in The Arena, Monday night, to stage four bouts which are scheduled to last two hours and 45 minutes, unless falls come, they'll see among them, an Adonis of the mat—Eric Holmbeck, of Alaska. He drew Eric Erickson, a bald-pated grappler in 15 minutes, March 19. Holmbeck is slated to test his holds and strength with Bing Hall in the semi-final of 45 minutes.

The main encounter will be between Joe Savoldi who has been wrestling since he ceased running the football for Notre Dame and Fred Bozic, of Cleveland, who might be called the "villain of the mat." Fred tried the fans with his tactics when he downed Bulldog Atkinson recently and of they "shoot the works" Monday night, the fans will see a real match. They are scheduled to wrestle one hour. Savoldi downed Pat Murphy two out of three falls March 19.

Four Bouts on Card
Instead of three bouts there will be four. The two preliminaries are scheduled to go 30 minutes each and will be between Alex Polasky, of Pittsburgh vs Bill Gridley, of Philadelphia, and Gus Wells, of Pittsburgh, and Tony Corica, of Cadiz, O.

Servo Battles Graziano Tonight

Expect Patrons Of Punch To Pay $175,000 To See Fight In New York

ROCKY HAS 10 POUNDS ADVANTAGE

By CASWELL ADAMS
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, March 29. A big pay-day and bruised features loomed today for both Marty Servo and Rocky Graziano, who will belabor each other tonight in Madison Square Garden before $175,000 worth of fanatical customers.

This third highest indoor fight gate in all history is to be divided so that each gladiator will receive about $40,000 for his efforts. And each warrior can punch a fact that has made the affair a sell-out for two weeks and which promises expert work for doctors tonight and neither figures to escape scot free from the bludgeons of the other guy.

Good Fighter

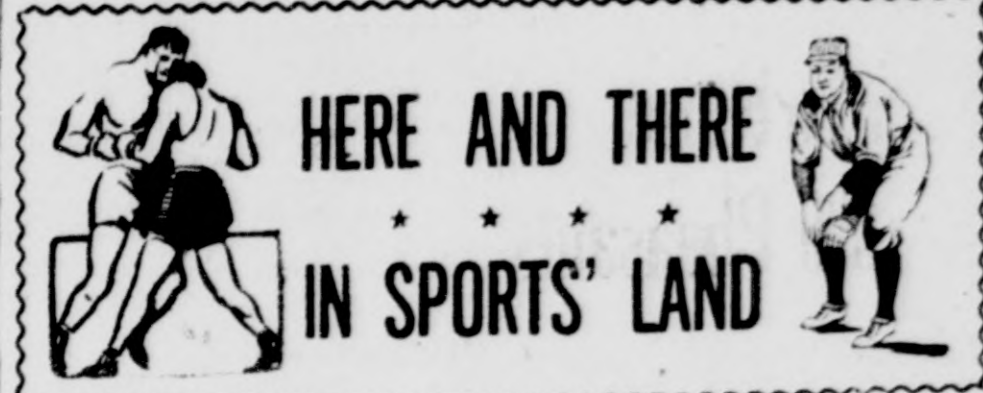

A last call-over the odds, had it even money, a drop of the points from the 5 to 8 which originally favored Rocky last Monday, Graziano will have a ten-pound pull in the weights, when the boys weigh in at noon—154 to 144—but the bettors figure that the welterweight champion, Servo, will find no disadvantage.

They figure that Servo's plot is to follow his left in close and play the game at close range. They figure that Graziano is always bothered by a forcing fighter and that he likes to stand still at the other's head and toss bombs at the other's head. They figure that Marty is an excellent boxer, besides possessing a crackling punch, and that he's fast, and that he's not awed a bit by the knockout record of Graziano who has left five or six for "dead" in recent Garden outings.

Castle Hills To Open On Saturday

Official Opening Saturday At Hills. Will Start Qualifying For League

Castle Hills golf course will be official opened to the public on Saturday at noon. It was announced today by Course Manager Larry Gramling. There will be a meeting at the course Monday night, April 1, of all Castle Hills players interested in making the Castle Hills team in the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio Golf league. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock. Qualifying rounds will start at once.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TIME WAS when it would have been sheer heresy to suggest that a dry fly might be fished downstream or that employing anything resembling a worm or the larva of an aquatic insect as trout bait would not violate the basic ethical code of angling. However, the purists have become more broadminded in recent years it seems, and once in a while you will even meet one who will concede that it is almost impossible to attract a brookie or rainbow with a dry fly on certain days in early spring. The water is likely to be high and turbid. Trout are only beginning to flip off their winter lethargy and are not particularly active about it. Insects are buried in the mud as nymphs and pupae, or just emerging from the stream bed to assume adult forms, according to Jack Welch of Campfire. Minnows swim the creeks at mid-depths, while attention is focused mainly on his food supply. It follows then, that you will stand a better chance of success if you fish the depths rather than the surface and that the dry fly produces meager returns at such times.

Artificial nymphs and streamers occupy a definite and prominent position in the early spring trout fishing picture. The streamers, which resemble no living creatures when dry, do a very effective job of imitating minnows when they are immersed, particularly streamers with eyes, and many a spring trout falls victim to them. At a time when mayfly, stonefly, dragonfly damselfly, dobsonfly, fishfly, caddis fly and other embryos are undergoing metamorphosis into imagoes they constitute a large proportion of the trout's menu, and it is no wonder that imitations often lure granddaddy fish. These artificial wet fly nymphs usually are fished upstream to eliminate drag as they drift down, but can be fished downstream if circumstances seem to require it.

Al Morella who attend the Al Lopez baseball school while he was in service in Florida, has received offers to catch for two Class D teams but proposes to remain here and play in the City League. Al received offers from Brewton Millers in the Alabama state loop and the other from Newburgh, North Atlantic League. To Johnny Othides and others at the Penn Power steam plant, West Pittsburg; Lou Gelzig died June 2, 1941, according to a newspaper owned by former Sheriff Bill Andrews who is co-owner of the Sporting Goods store. Andrews played the infield on local teams at the age of three score and eight.

Frank T. Sargent, district commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has forwarded to Here & There a copy of the Scotland Courier which reports the news and activities of boys and girls at the Soldiers Orphans' Industrial school, Scotland, Pa. While a student Here & There set type for the Courier, S. O. I. S. opposed Shippensburg Academy, Mercersburg Academy, Greencastle, Mechanicsville and other basketball games last winter. Baseball opens April 2 with a schedule of 17 games to end May 28 when vacation rolls around. Wrestling prices here have been cut to one and two dollars, tax included.

Basketball is said to be the only sport to originate in this country. Other sports in one form or another originated in foreign countries. Andy De Lorenzo, Taylor street, who served in both Asiatic and European theaters is home. The corporal is on convalescent leave. Alex Zirin of the Cleveland Plain Dealer reports that the Indians only problem is the outfield. Frank Gibbons of the Cleveland Press says the Indians lack the power to match the leading three contenders and Ed McCauley of the Cleveland News, says that if rookie outfielders make the team the Indians will put up an interesting race, otherwise they'll be lucky to finish in the first division.

"THE MEN'S AND BOYS' STORE"

No. 1 acquisition this spring was Chuck MacFarland, of Canonsburg, heavy-hitting first baseman who was hitting at a .400 clip before he entered the Army Air Corps in 1941. Ken Yount, of Kittanning, narrow hitting outfielder, also has returned from the service and currently trying to alleviate the pitching shortage.
